

ABSTRACT

An electro-optical device comprising a display drive system with the display timing related to the unit time  $t$  for writing-in a picture element and to the time  $F$  for writing-in one picture is disclosed. In the device, a gradated display corresponding to the ratio of the division can be obtained by time-sharing the signal during a write-in of time  $t$  without changing the time  $F$ .

000000-5504960